

NEW FROM THE RELIGIOUS STUDIES CENTER

ABOUT THE EDITORS

KENNETH L. ALFORD, PhD, is a professor of Church history and doctrine at Brigham Young University. After serving almost thirty years on active duty in the U.S. Army, he retired as a colonel in 2008. He served in numerous military assignments, including the Pentagon, eight years teaching computer science at the United States Military Academy at West Point, and four years as department chair and professor teaching strategic leadership at the National Defense University in Washington, DC. He has served as the BYU Religious Education Teaching Fellow and is an Honorary Life Member of the Utah State Historical Society.

KRYSTAL V. L. PIERCE, PhD, is an assistant professor in the Department of Ancient Scripture at BYU. She received a PhD in Egyptology and Near Eastern languages and cultures from UCLA and an MA and BA in Egyptian archaeology and Near Eastern studies from UC Berkeley. She has taught classes on Egyptology and ancient Near Eastern studies at the BYU Jerusalem Center, UCLA, and UC Berkeley. She has participated in archaeological excavations at several sites in Egypt and Israel and is currently head registrar for the Tel Shimron Excavations in the Galilee region of Israel.

MARY JANE WOODGER, EdD, is a professor of Church history and doctrine at Brigham Young University. She has written and published over twenty books, including three books about the life and teachings of David O. McKay. She has also authored numerous articles on doctrinal, historical, and educational subjects. Awards she has received include the Richard Lloyd Anderson Research Award, the Best Article of the Year Award from the Utah Historical Society, the Brigham Young University Faculty Women's Association Teaching Award, the Harvey B. and Susan Easton Black Outstanding Publication Award, and the Alice Louise Reynolds Women-in-Scholarship Honor.

BOOK OF MORMON Insights

Letting God Prevail in Your Life

PROVO, UTAH, AND SALT LAKE CITY—If your ability to feast on the Book of Mormon seems dulled, depriving you of precious daily uplift and insights, this new book can recharge your reading habits. Book of Mormon Insights: Letting God Prevail in Your Life models how to read perceptively so that even familiar passages can be pressed for personal applications.

In Book of Mormon Insights, Latter-day Saint professors of religion and other serious students of the Book of Mormon share practical insights and takeaways gleaned from close readings of the text. These essays take a fresh look at Book of Mormon teachings, stories, and people, bringing to the fore what you may not have noticed before.

The writers tease out insightful readings to help enlighten, build faith, and strengthen resolve to live so that God's will can prevail in your life, inviting promised blessings. Examples include:

- Lehi's conviction of God's everlasting and redeeming love enabled him to cultivate hope while enduring the anguish of seeing two of his sons rebel and become cut off from God.
- The rich imagery of the bitter cup is more multifaceted and illustrative of the Atonement and the ordinance of the sacrament than we probably realize.
- A Lamanite queen in exigent circumstances involving the conversion of her household shows how critical it can be to set aside fear in order to defuse contention and discern the Lord's hand at work.
- Alma the Younger's initial failures at preaching to a rebellious people taught him about overbearance and the folly of trying to assert personal desires and plans over God's will.

Book of Mormon Insights: Letting God Prevail in Your Life was copublished by the Religious Studies Center at Brigham Young University and Deseret Book. Visit rsc.byu.edu/book/book-mormon-insights for more information.

DETAILS

Purchase at Deseret Book or online at deseretbook.com

Hardcover $27.99

Pages: 288

Size: 6" x 9"

ISBN: 978-1-9503-0448-6

Publisher: RSC and Deseret Book

On sale now

CONNECT WITH US rsc.byu.edu

MEDIA CONTACT

For more information, please contact

Marketing: Brent Nordgren

801-422-3293, brent_nordgren@byu.edu

Social Media: Devan Jensen

801-422-9304, devan_jensen@byu.edu

