

Keynote Lecture

Financing Faith

MORMONISM AND BANKING IN THE 1830S AND 1840S

Dr. Sharon Murphy, Providence College

CHURCH HISTORY
SYMPOSIUM

Dr. Murphy is a professor of history at Providence College, where she specializes in US history and its organizations, entrepreneurs, marketing campaigns, and financial panics and depressions. Since 2011 she has been an associate editor for Enterprise & Society: The International Journal of Business History published by Cambridge University Press. Her book Investing in Life: Insurance in Antebellum America (2010) won the 2012 Hagley Prize in Business History. She is also the author of Other People's Money: How Banking Worked in the Early American Republic (2017).

Thursday, March 1, 2018

7:00 p.m., BYU Conference Center
Auditorium (Room 2254), Provo

churchhistory.ce.byu.edu

Sponsored by BYU Church History and Doctrine, Church History Department,
BYU Religious Studies Center, and BYU Continuing Education

CHURCH HISTORY
LIBRARY

CHURCH HISTORY
MUSEUM