

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Producing a book of this nature requires a great deal of work from a good number of people. We are grateful for the many authors who contributed to this unique volume. In a very real sense, this Festschrift was made possible because of the time, talents, and energy they invested in their essays, and we sincerely thank them. We are indebted to everyone who also contributed their time and critical eye during the peer review process. We appreciate the assistance of the Brigham Young University Religious Studies Center's full-time publishing staff: Thomas A. Wayment, Devan Jensen, Brent R. Nordgren, and Joany O. Pinegar. We are also grateful for the editing work of Shanna Clayton, Rachel I. Gessel, Hadley Griggs, and Rebekah Weaver as well as the typesetter support, cover design, and peer mentoring provided by Madison Swapp. A special thanks goes to Rebecca Hamson, who filled two roles—as both an editor and as a typesetter. We also express gratitude to Richard Cowan's wife, Dawn, for being a secret conspirator who provided photos and double-checked the timeline information as well as other members of the Cowan family who supported this volume in any way. And through it all, we appreciate the support of our wives, Sherilee and Patricia.
