

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This volume resulted in part from the originating vision of M. Gerald Bradford, executive director of the Neal A. Maxwell Institute for Religious Scholarship at Brigham Young University. Jerry first suggested honoring our colleague Robert Millet with a collection of essays and we have been grateful collaborators in the effort.

We acknowledge the excellence of the three institutions co-publishing this collection. Their staffs have been enthusiastic supporters of the project from the outset and have blended their experience and skill to produce a marvelous tribute: Thomas Wayment, Brent Nordgren, Devan Jensen, Joany Pinegar, Rebecca Bird, Alison Brimley, Shanna D'Avila, Madison Swapp, and Leah Welker at BYU's Religious Studies Center, Gerald Bradford and Joe Bonyata at the Maxwell Institute, and Lisa Roper at Deseret Book Company.

Lastly, we acknowledge Shauna Millet. Those of us who know Bob well understand the depth of his dependence on her support and love. Across a long and busy career in Church education and academia, she has been a steady and enlivening influence on Bob. Those of us who love him are especially grateful to her!
