Indicates the first full verse number on left-hand pages. On right-hand pages, the last verse number is indicated. Scripture references have short abbreviations and periods rather than colons between chapter and verse (“1 Ne 21.26” rather than “1 Nephi 21:26”).

Original chapter number in Roman numerals.

Poetry (in this case, Isaiah 49.25–26) is set in Hebraic-style lines and stanzas. Verse numbers appear on the left.

“Even the captives^a of the mighty shall be taken away,
and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered;
for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee,
and I will save thy children.
26 And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh;
they shall be drunken with their own blood as with sweet wine;
and all flesh shall know that I, the Lord, am thy Savior and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.”^b

The Scattering and Gathering of Israel, Aided by the Gentiles

[VII] 22 And now it came to pass that after I, Nephi, had read these things which were engraven upon the plates of brass, my brethren came unto me and said unto me, “What meaneth these things which ye have read? Behold, are they to be understood according to things which are spiritual, which shall come to pass according to the spirit and not the flesh?”

² And I, Nephi, said unto them, “Behold they were manifest^a unto the prophet by the voice of the Spirit; for by the Spirit are all things made known unto the prophets, Subscripted numbers in the headings differentiate people with the same name. The next Nephi mentioned in the text will be Nephi₂, and so forth.

Occasional full-chapter headings are set in large italics. When such headings span more than two chapters, they are set in large, italicized caps. The italic font indicates that these are editorial additions and not part of the scriptural text.

Original chapter numbers are in Roman numerals. Modern chapters are in Arabic numerals; these coincide with the running chapter and verse numbers provided at the top of each page.

Section headings created by the editor identify general topics. Again, the italic font indicates that these are editorial additions and not part of the scriptural text.

The text is formatted in paragraphs, including quotation marks to offset dialogue from narrative voice. Paragraphs that continue a quotation begin with a quotation mark. All the punctuation in this edition is identical to the 2013 edition, except where it was necessary to adjust for quotation marks or poetry. The 2013 text itself is reproduced exactly.

Bold lettering highlights phrases Nephi has borrowed from a just-quoted passage. The footnote specifies the exact reference. Elsewhere, bold text identifies differences between the Book of Mormon text and the parallel passage from the King James Version of the Bible.

which shall come upon the children of men according to the flesh. ³ Wherefore, the things of which I have read are things pertaining to things both temporal and spiritual.

^aFor it appears that the house of Israel, sooner or later, will be scattered upon all the face of the earth, and also among all nations. ⁴ And behold, there are many who are already lost from the knowledge of those who are at Jerusalem. Yea, the more part of all the tribes have been led away; and they are scattered to and fro^d upon the isles of the sea;^e and whither they are none of us knoweth, save that we know that they have been led away. ⁵ And since they have been led away, these things have been prophesied concerning them, and also concerning all those who shall hereafter be scattered and be confounded, because of the Holy One of Israel;^f for against him will they harden their hearts; wherefore, they shall be scattered among all nations and shall be hated of all^g men.

⁶ Nevertheless, after they shall be nursed^h by the Gentiles, and the Lord has lifted up his hand upon the Gentiles and set them up for a standard, and their children have been carried in their arms, and their daughters have been carried upon their shoulders;ⁱ behold these things of which are spoken are temporal; for thus are the covenants of the Lord with our fathers; and it meaneth us in the days to come, and also all our brethren who are of the house of Israel. ⁷ And it meaneth that the time cometh that after all the house of Israel have been scattered and confounded, that the Lord

Footnote letters are shaded in gray to make them easier to find.

Some footnotes call attention to quotations, allusions, and other literary features in the text.

Verse numbers are superscripted; paragraph breaks sometimes occur within a verse, as in v. 3 above.

Footnote letters are followed by the verse number in which the footnote appears.

Variant readings from the original manuscript (O) and printer's manuscript (P) are noted.
